

PMUA Celebrates Earth Week with Students

On Monday, April 18th PMUA Recycle Coordinator Trevor Gravesande and Senior Public Information Specialist Deborah Kane went to Plainfield High School to discuss recycling and environmental issues. Students from the school's Community Based Instruction Program talked about how they can have a positive impact on Plainfield's environmental health by utilizing tips from the PMUA to increase what they recycle. Water and energy conservation was also a focus of this community exchange. In honor of Earth Week, PMUA continues its ongoing public outreach efforts this month with additional civic clean-ups and activities.
